Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from The Agromeck, 1925, Vol. 23 Due to its favorable location and equip ment, State College offers unusual oppor unity to young men to study Highway Engineering. Not only can theoretical instruction be given, but there are in and near Raleigh many opportunities to study the practical application of the principles Of highway construction. Raleigh and Wake County have built or have under construction most of the different types of highways; the laboratories of the State Highway Commission are available for inspection; and numerous experimental sections of roads constructed by the Com mission near Raleigh can be examined. The equipment at the College for ih struction in Highway Engineering is very complete. There are two large laboratories for the testing of road materials; full field equipment; and modern drawing rooms equipped with the best type of furniture and instruments. There is also a large lecture room for the showing of lantern slides and motion pictures. The Department library is kept up to date, being supplied with the latest magazines and bulletins devoted to highway construction, maintenance, and research.
